The page contains extremely faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper. The text is arranged in several columns and is too light to be transcribed accurately. There are also two circular marks near the top edge of the page, which could be punch holes or scanning artifacts.

CHRONOLOGY of SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

- May 1913. Meeting of 112 actors in New York forms Actors Equity Association.
- October 1917. First minimum standard contract for Actors Equity signed.
- July 1919. American Federation of Labor gives a charter to the Associated Actors and Artists of America (commonly known as the Four As) of which Actors Equity was a strong member.
- August 1919. 30 day strike by actors in New York which succeeds in gaining recognition of Actors Equity for actors, and obtains a five year contract.
1924. A brief New York strike over the "Equity Shop" wins a guarantee that 80 per cent of actors will be Equity members in every Equity production.
1942. In Toronto, 15 people meet to form the Radio Artists of Toronto Society (RATS) to unionize artists working in radio productions.
- July 1943. RATS receives a federal charter from the American Federation of Labor.
1946. RATS, along with other AFL federally chartered artists unions in Vancouver, Winnipeg and Montreal, form the Association of Canadian Radio Artists (ACRA) to coordinate national activity of artists and actors working in radio.
1952. Association of Canadian Radio Artists, along with the Union des Artistes Lyriques et Dramatiques de Montreal, meet to form a single national association, the Canadian Council of Authors and Artists (CCAA) with a membership of 2,000.
- 1953-54. The CCAA meets with the 4 A's Council to discuss organization of artists in Canada, and persuades the 4 A's Council to send an Actors Equity representative to Canada. CCAA helps in the selection of the EA Canadian representative.
1955. Dennis Sweeting becomes Equity representative in Canada.
- February 1955. First meeting of Actors Equity in Canada under the new plan for organization in Canada. A preliminary exploratory committee is established (Lloyd Bochner, Eric House, Larry McCance, Grania Mortimer, Douglas Campbell, E. M. Margolese, John Maddison) to plan for the election of the first Canadian Advisory Committee.
- April 1955. The Canadian Council of Authors and Artists approaches the Trades and Labor Congress and request a TLC charter with jurisdiction over artists and actors in Canada.
- December 1955. Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, after discussions with the AFL-CIO, agrees to give the CCAA a charter with jurisdiction in Canada over performance for authors and artists, specifically radio broadcasts, television, motion pictures, live, recorded or filmed, or the reproduction of these performances.

May 1957. Actors Equity membership meeting in Toronto reports 500 Equity members in the country, jurisdiction extended to almost all Industrial shows.

February 1957. Actors Fund of Canada, under chairmanship of Jane Mallett, is established with intention of raising $10,000 to $20,000 by the end of the year.

June 1958. Actors Fund of Canada granted charter by Ontario government as a registered charity.

Summer 1958. Agreement between Equity, AGMA and CCAA that Equity will administer the fields of opera and ballet for AGMA in Canada.

1959. Larry McCance becomes Equity representative in Canada

October 1959. Charmion King, CAC Chairman, writes to New York Council asking that by-law changes be considered to give the Canadian Advisory Council clear jurisdiction over matters pertaining to Canadian members.

December 1959. Canadian Advisory Council recommends that the CAC be empowered to set up election procedures, set rates and conditions of employment, take disciplinary measures, set up membership meetings, and provide for the election of five councillors to represent Canadian membership in Equity.

January 1960. Fédération des auteurs et artistes de Canada formed following the separation of the Union des artistes de Montréal, la Société des auteurs dramatiques de Montréal, and la Société des artistes de Québec from the CCAA over Quebec artists union support for the CBC producers strike in Montreal.

July 1960. Canadian Council of Authors and Artists disaffiliates from the Canadian Labour Congress after the CLC recognizes the Fédération des auteurs et artistes du Canada as the union with jurisdiction over the actors, authors and artists in the French language.

February 1962. Equity membership in Canada 1,452.

January 1963. New York Council adopts by-law change to give Canadian Advisory Committee more authority. The Canadian Executive Committee is empowered to call membership meetings in Canada, grant concessions to the Standard Equity Agreements to meet specific local and national conditions, appoint committees to study issues, accept, hear and act upon charges against Equity members normally residing in Canada. These changes are similar to powers given to the Equity West Coast Advisory Board.

April 1963. Equity membership reaches 1,700 in Canada, with employment opportunities of 2,500 weeks of work per year. In peak period of July, 375 members working per week.

Summer 1963. Union des Artistes and Equity dispute jurisdiction over the December 1964. It is learned that Union des Artistes had signed an agreement with the provincial government giving the union full jurisdiction over the Montreal Place des Arts. The Quebec union refuses to meet with Equity officials, and Equity advises members that appearances at the theatre would be a breach of Equity contracts.

January 1965. Meeting of the Four A's passes a resolution advising all member associations to refuse to accept engagements at Montreal's Place des Arts because of jurisdictional disputes with Union des Artistes.

June 1965. Union des Artistes and Equity reach an agreement on jurisdiction. Equity and AGMA secure jurisdiction over all English milieu drama, musical comedy, operetta, light opera, industrial shows and revues, concert, opera, ballet and choral works in the United States and Canada. Fédération des auteurs et des artistes du Canada shall exercise the same jurisdiction in the French milieu. Bilingual shows fall under the jurisdiction of the union which had jurisdiction over the first production.

Equity agrees to join the Canadian Labour Congress so that the CLC can act as umpire in the event of an unresolved dispute.

December 1965. Equity becomes a member of the Canadian Labour Congress.

January 1968. Burnard Chadwick joins Equity as assistant to Larry McCance.

April 1969. Graham Spicer joins Equity staff as Assistant Canadian representative.

March 1970. Burnard Chadwick is appointed Equity Canadian representative succeeding the late Larry McCance.

December 1975. Canadian Executive Committee approves the Reciprocal Agreement with the United States Equity which separates the two associations, but allows current members to join the other organization without the payment of initiation fees.

January 1976. New York Council approves the Reciprocal Agreement with Actors Equity of Canada, and the date of separation is set at 1 April 1976. An interim executive committee administers Equity affairs until a new Canadian Executive Council can be elected.

March 1977. Dan MacDonald becomes the first president of Canadian Actors Equity Association.

January 1979. Equity's West Coast office opens in Vancouver.

November 1980. Executive Council releases Ross and Partners consultants report recommending major reforms to Equity office management and Equity structure. An Executive committee is appointed to carry out the recommended changes.

Summer 1981. Burnard Chadwick is replaced by Graham Spicer as the Executive Secretary of Actors Equity.

May 1982. Major revisions to the Equity constitution are accepted which creates a 34 member Council, and regional advisory councils for British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritimes. The Council consists of 30 general representatives, elected on the basis of proportional regional membership in Equity. An Executive Committee, composed of the President, two Vice-Presidents, Treasurer and Secretary and five Council members, manage the affairs of the union between the quarterly meetings of the Council.

October 1985. Actors Equity decides not to merge with Association of Canadian Television and Radio Artists after studying the proposal since 1982. The Equity-ACTRA Joint Standing Committee is reactivated to coordinate matters of mutual interest.
